

HONG KONG

Frequently Asked Questions

Whether this is your first time organizing a deposition in Hong Kong or just brushing up on what you can and can't do, the answers below are set to guide you through the entire process.

Rules & Regulations

Are there any restrictions on holding a U.S. depo in Hong Kong?

YES NO

Voluntary depositions of U.S. citizen witnesses do not need prior permission from Hong Kong authorities. Taking voluntary depositions of non-U.S. citizen witnesses requires prior permission from Hong Kong's Competent Authority. Contact us for more info.

Venue & Depo Location

Can the deposition take place at any venue?

YES NO

Depositions in Hong Kong can take place at your chosen venue, whether a hotel room, conference room, or law office. You may also conduct your deposition remotely via web conferencing or setting up a hybrid deposition with both remote and in-person services.

Local Resources

Are there court reporters in Hong Kong for U.S. depositions?

YES NO

Optima Juris has region based court reporters in Hong Kong and throughout Asia, which means minimal travel costs for you.

Our global network also includes local legal videographers and interpreters, if needed.

How We Can Help

Can Optima Juris help me set up my deposition?

YES NO

At Optima Juris we are committed to providing you with the very best deposition services abroad. We've been handling international depositions for over 23 years. That makes us leaders in the industry.

Best Practices when swearing in a witness outside of the U.S.

WATCH

Ian Hardy, President of Optima Juris, discusses essential tips to correctly administer the oath for depositions outside the U.S.

When attorneys need to swear in witnesses abroad, the time-honored solution is for both sides to stipulate on the record that the court reporter can swear in the witness. Using a U.S. certified court reporter is not enough, because notary powers do not apply when they venture outside of U.S. territory. Stipulating on the record is an excellent solution and it works in all cases, with both U.S. certified and foreign certified reporters (i.e.: British or Canadian reporters). Stipulating on the record is the easiest way to assure the admissibility of your witness's testimony.

International Deposition Options

Below is a reference guide to the most commonly used options for conducting a U.S. deposition abroad.

Still have questions? Just give us a call and we'll walk you through the perfect tailored-solution.

OPTION 01

Attending In Person

Attorneys travel to the witness location. Optima Juris arranges local reporter, videographer and an interpreter closest to the witness.

Advantages: Typically useful for large cases and where remote depositions are difficult due to slow internet connectivity.

We recommend this option to get the clearest record. Also, you are less likely to encounter technical issues.

Disadvantages: Higher travel costs and less cancellation flexibility.

OPTION 02

Hybrid Deposition Reporter WITH the witness

Attorneys participate remotely via a video conferencing platform (e.g. Zoom). The court reporter is physically present with the witness.

Advantages: Optima Juris' certified reporters specialize in remote depositions. We provide a technician to monitor all connections for real-time assistance.

Disadvantages: Some travel costs may incur for the court reporter, although our goal is always to book the closest reporter to your witness.

OPTION 03

Remote Deposition Everyone attends remotely

Attorneys, witness, and court reporter participate via a video conferencing platform (e.g. Zoom, Webex) from their home or office.

Advantages: Cost-effective solution that allows everyone to participate remotely without needing to travel. Optima Juris' reporters are trained in remote depositions and know how to get the clearest record.

Disadvantages: Remote connections can be prone to pauses, interruptions, and/or connection loss due to network issues.

"There is no more stressful job in the world of court reporting than the calendar/scheduling department. Kimberlee is a real pro and has always come through for us when we've needed her at Regal Court Reporting to help with our international depositions."

Isaiah Leslie, Regal Court Reporting

"I wanted to thank you and your team for an outstanding job. You were incredibly responsive and helpful in arranging a deposition halfway around the world in the face of short notice and scheduling challenges related to drastically different time zones and the dearth of court reporters in Perth trained in U.S.-styled depositions. We truly appreciate it."

Michelle Brockway, Clark Hill Strasburger Law Firm

"I wanted to drop you a quick note to express my gratitude for all Kimberlee Castro did to organize our three-day Taiwan event (steno reporter and interpreter). She had much to do before and after, often late at night or even the middle of the night. I very much enjoyed working with Kimberlee and getting to know her. She truly lives up to her title of global deposition expert! You are lucky to have her."
